

Beauty and the Beast Jr with Buckeye Community Theatre

When it is the day of the show I will walk into this large brick building. There may be construction and a lot of debris but I know I am safe.

I will walk into a hallway where there may be a lot of noisy but friendly people.

I will ride the elevator upstairs to the second floor.

I will exit the elevator and walk down another long hallway. There may be more noisy but friendly people.

If I arrive early, I may need to wait before the Theater opens.

Once the Theater opens, a helper will give me a program if I want one.

I will then choose my seat in the Theater. I will watch many other people choose their seats.

During the show, there will be dancing, singing and sometimes loud noises and surprises. The people around me may clap their hands. I know that I am safe.

After an hour, the red curtain will close to give everyone a break. I can use the restroom or eat a snack if I'd like. I will return to my seat when I am finished.

The red curtain will open and the actors will come back onstage to sing and dance. At the end of the show, the people around me may stand and clap.

After the show is over, I will leave the Theater and go back out into the hallway. The hallway may be filled with noisy but friendly people.

I will get back into the elevator and go down to the 1st floor.

I will exit the building and get into the car to go home. I had fun.
